Novelties for Your 1949 Garden

Strawberry Corn

Amusing! Colorful! Different!

This was one of the hits of the New York Flower Show and we predict it will become a very popular subject for fall decorations. It is really a "Pop Corn" and a very good one too, but its main charm lies in the beauty of the tiny ears which are only 2 inches long and 1-1/2 inches wide and are a rich and shiny mahogany color, not unlike a gigantic strawberry. These are enclosed in straw-colored husks which may be bent back showing the ear. Wonderfully effective for winter bouquets. Make money for your club or farm fair by raising this novelty to sell.

No. 705, Pkt. 25c.

GROW YOUR OWN HARDY PERENNIAL

Rock Garden And Border Favorites

Plants which live year after year in the garden are known as perennials. They require little attention and once established, they will increase in beauty and size every season. They may be planted in front of shrubbery, in rock gardens, or in beds along walks called borders. Take into consideration the height of the plant so that the taller sorts will be in the background with the little edging varieties out in front. For rock gardens the dwarf or spreading types are best, preferably those kinds which will thrive in full sun and well drained soil. By starting your own perennial plants from seed you will save considerable money and will be able to have many interesting flowers. We have listed below only the perennials which are easy to raise in most parts of the country. In addition to the height, we give the blooming period and soil conditions each prefers. Planning and starting a perennial border is like painting a picture, using nature's loveliest flowers for the colors. There is no hobby more fascinating for the gardener, nor one which pays richer returns for the time invested.
